

NOTICE OF CONSULTATION

Island Lake, MB Aviation Weather Observations

NAV CANADA, the country's provider of civil air navigation services is conducting an aeronautical study to determine the method for conducting aviation weather observations at Island Lake, MB. Currently, aviation weather observations are provided by a Contract Weather Office (CWO).

The study will examine if the CWO can be closed and the weather observations provided by an Automated Weather Observation System (AWOS).

Additional information is available in the Terms of Reference (TOR) document located on the NAV CANADA web site via the following link:
